Creating a green, fair energy system. No to dirty fossil fuels and fuel poverty - Yes to clean, green energy and warm, healthy homes!

✓ We did it!

On 29th Jun 2017 we successfully raised £5,707 of £3,000 target with 32 supporters in 28 days

 NEW - All supporters will be entered into a draw to win 2 day tickets to Off Grid Festival ***

Imagine what Bristol could be in the future: a city where clean, green, affordable electricity and gas is produced and delivered by the community for the community. Where houses are warm and healthy in winter. Where decent long-lasting jobs grow from making the city more sustainable. Where profits are shared and communities benefit. Where Bristol shines as a green beacon to cities across Great Britain to show how a better future can be fun. Now is your chance to make this happen!

Bristol is a city bursting with good ideas for making our city truly sustainable. Dozens of groups, of all kinds and sizes - from the City Council to community-based volunteers - are already striving to make Bristol fit to survive in the 21st Century, and one of the most important areas in which they are working is with energy. How we use energy doesn't just affect our wallets. It has one of the biggest effects on how we conserve our planet for our children and grandchildren.

Whether it is the City Council's wind turbines and own energy company, Bristol Energy Co operative's and Low Carbon Gifford's large solar-electric PV arrays, community groups helping people to save money by switching energy suppliers and making home improvements, or activists fighting dirty fossil-fuel exploiters; dozens of groups and members of the Bristol Energy Network are already working towards a greener, greener city for our home. But we must do more to bring about the change we all need.

Bristol Energy Network is a network of around 30 members groups working across the city. We need to raise £3,000 to help expand our work. This funding will allow us to:

- Host talks and film-screenings
- Run workshops for people on low incomes providing advice on reducing energy bills
- Provide materials for home improvements, such as draught proofing kits
- Get new and upgraded public engagement tools
- Carry out thermal imaging surveys of people's homes to help them identify where they are losing heat

Why is this important?

Our current energy system does not work for the people or the planet. Many people cannot afford to pay for the energy they need, with thousands dying every winter because they cannot afford to heat their homes. We waste huge amounts of energy, for example a lot of heat is lost from our homes when they are not properly insulated. Our energy system is controlled by large companies and is run to make money rather than to benefit people, and most of the energy is generated from burning fossil fuels, which not only creates climate change but also the extraction of fossil fuels destroys the planet and harms the communities who live nearby.

We need to reach more people across the city and get them involved in creating a better energy system. By raising awareness and providing information and resources we can help bring about change in individual lives as well as at a community and political level.

What next?

<https://librariestaskforce.blog.gov.uk/2017/09/05/community-managed-libraries-research-what-well-do-next/>

Summary

- There are grant funding opportunities which come and go - but limited
- Fewer opportunities if run by local authority
- Need diverse sources of income
- Use the space creatively to allow other groups to apply for funding
- Nurture the entrepreneurs
- Have a pool of people with the skills you need

Where to look for Funders

Suggestions in pack as starter for 10

We're focusing on 'other funders' but don't overlook Arts Council England - possibly first port of call

European Regional Development Fund (ERDF) and European Social Fund (ESF) - engage with LA Economic Development Teams and Local Enterprise Partnerships

www.fundingcentral.org.uk - guide to 4,000+ grants, contracts, loans

www.fundraising.co.uk - fundraising news, ideas and inspirations

www.dsc.org.uk - good site for ideas and resources

Can be long haul searching for funders. Ask others for advice - might save you lots of time!

Practical Exercise 2: Where are you going to look for support?

Feedback:
What did you learn from exercise 2?

Step 3:
Getting the money:
maximising the chances of success

Step 3: Getting the money: maximising the chance of success

Paul Hassan - Locality

When applying think about

- Are you eligible and meet criteria? - governance
- Is it clear why project needed with evidence - sources?
- Follow your mission not the funders
- Flip it - think like a funder

- Make it stand out - get them excited, provide a good pr story, up to date case studies, social media - presume they will google you
- Can you bring in support from other staff/trustees? - critical friend to look over and breakdown work
- Social media presence

- Ask for clarity if not sure and read the guidance - research which showed only 1 third actually do
- Answer the questions and anticipate ones such as around governance
- Allow enough time and resource - allow to blossom, others to check over

- Have you got a good robust and accessible business plan - clear on direction?
- Demonstrate good governance - is org credible, can you show this easily on 1 page?
- Include full cost recovery aspects where able

- Accurately cost the project - showing efficient procedures
- Understand common reject reasons - not applying to right programme, poorly planned, not clear what money to be spent on, don't demonstrate fit with criteria

- Treat like a job application - make memorable
- Ask for what you need not what you think the funder wants to give
- Use guidance support themes - e.g. BIG have documents on: Identifying need, information checks, aims and outcomes
- Try not to take rejection personally!!!
 - think about the ratios

Summary

- Once have funding that is only the beginning.
- Take evidencing impact seriously – not just ‘bean counting’
- Provide information in a way that works for you – celebrate with staff/trustees/community, video clips
- PR campaign – become funders ‘darling’ not ‘bitch’
- Think about progression and next steps straight away
- Apply again but not relentless
- Grow and develop – the ‘new new’

Questions to consider

Why is this project important?

Who is it important to?

Who will benefit?

What difference will your project make?

How will you maintain projects in the long term?

What is your project trying to achieve?

Need to cover both:

- Why does this matter? (big picture / context)
- What are you going to do about it? (detailed activities)

Feedback from conversations with Funders

Some moving towards more strategic approach to allocating funds, hence reducing overall pot for 'one off' applications

If doesn't fit entirely with strategic approach, some only interested in funding 'innovative' one off applications

Very limited resource to engage with applicant communities.
Direct applicants to website guidance - read VERY CAREFULLY and check steps needed before applying (eg. creating accounts)

Not 'warm' to funding gaps created by Local Authorities stopping funding activities

Feedback from Funders on library applications

Have a very strong asset base and some good ideas

Have access to a diverse audience

Level of ambition in applications is far too low

Good ideas but have seen many of them before

Bids generally weak in marketing and audience development

Generally weak in developing partnerships for applications

Be more externally focussed (break out of 'library bubble')

Far too many applications are vastly under costed. Make sure money is enough to achieve project aims - and build in contingency

Other hints and tips

Don't assume funder knows anything about your project - tell them!

Show the fit between what you want to achieve and what the funder wants to achieve

Funder is assessing (1) whether the project is doable, and (2) whether you can do it - emphasise your experience / track record

It's ok to start with a smaller project first, then bid again to scale up

Allow plenty of time for project design - co-create with partners / users

Think about legacy and how project can become self-sustaining

If not successful first time, get feedback, amend and re-apply!

Doesn't matter if the funder likes the project or not. You need to demonstrate that someone will like it and want to take part

Do something that excites you.
If it doesn't excite
you, it won't excite anyone else!

Delivery, reporting and evaluation

Line up rest of your organisation

Complete the paperwork - internally and Funders

Delivery - do what you said you'd do! But prepare to be flexible

Communications and PR opportunities - regularly promote project / library service; consider Councillor media opps...

Reporting on progress - internally and to Funders; use of data

Lessons identified - review regularly: what went well, what went less well, what do differently? Learn and adapt

Evaluation - embed from the start; share widely

Questions and feedback:
What did you learn from Step 5?

Wrap up and next steps

Next steps

We'll share the notes

We'll share everyone's email address

We'll do a blog on the workshops - including all speaker slides and final copies of the template, etc - once the four workshops are over (late March)
